

YSL

Bold is the new black

Black has been officially voted out, thanks to a riot of orange, fuchsia, purple and turquoise ruling the collections in spring. Happy new hue to you!

1

Christian Dior

Gucci

The Female Top 50

The hottest, wildest, craziest and most exciting looks, things, people and places of 2008 – it's the Female forecast!

Antonia Chang, Maya Calica, Annie Tan and Grace Tay bring you the scoop

Dictates Of Fashion

Etro

Kenzo

Boho's back!

Tiers, flounces, floral prints, ruffles and fringes are back. The update? Go for that bohemian-with-a-trust-fund look – pair off casuals with dressy pieces, touches of metallic and jewelled details.

2

3 Indie watch brands

Watch for hot new watch brand MB&F, which stands for Maximilian Busser and Friends. The brand is a collaboration between the ex-CEO of Harry Winston Timepieces and indie watchmakers, resulting in radical timepieces that combine the best craftsmanship with avant-garde styling.

Basso & Brooke

4

Fashion imitates art

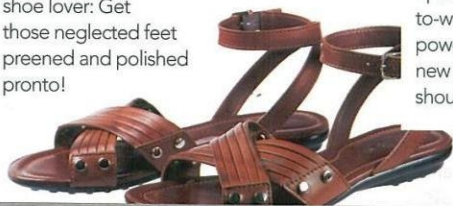

This season, designers from Dolce & Gabbana to Marc Jacobs for Louis Vuitton haven't just turned to art for inspiration – they've rolled up their sleeves and collaborated with hot new artists for the new season's ready-to-wear collections.

6

5 Spartan sole

Gladiator sandals are this year's ballet flats. Here's a footnote to you, shoe lover: Get those neglected feet preened and polished pronto!

Power suit up!

The working woman is back, as evidenced in Versace's Spring/Summer 2008 ready-to-wear collection of new sexy power suits in fluid silk and new styles – sans the massive shoulder pads, of course!